GOLDCLIFF FOUNDER LEN SALEKEN PASSES AWAY

(Vancouver, B.C.), George W Sanders, President, regretfully announces that Leonard W. Saleken, Goldcliff founder and Chairman has passed away following a brief illness. Len was a strong leader, a solid and valued partner to the Goldcliff Board members and exploration team, and most importantly, a good friend.

During his more than 40 years' career as a geologist Len developed a reputation for meticulous attention to exploration principles and geoscience fundamentals. As a senior exploration executive he was involved with the exploration, evaluation and development of several projects which achieved successful commercial production. These projects include the Sterling Mine (Nevada), Nickel Plate-Mascot Mine (BC), Jolu Mine (Saskatchewan), Mount Polley (BC), American Girl Mine (California) and Bajo de la Alumbraera (Argentina).

The Board and team extend their deepest sympathies to Len's family.

The Board has appointed George Sanders, President, as interim CEO.
