GOLDCLIFF APPOINTS NEW DIRECTOR

(Vancouver, B.C.), Leonard W. Saleken, Chairman, reports that the Company has appointed a new director for the Goldcliff. Sam Zastavnikovich, PGeo, B.Ed (Physical Science, Chemistry Major), has worked as a geochemist for 44 years. From 1969 to 2002, he was a field geochemist for Falconbridge Nickel Mines. Since 2003, he has worked as a consulting geochemist in Argentina, Canada, China, Brazil, Peru, Mexico, Turkey and the United States.

Sam's specific areas of expertise include the collection of high-quality field-sieved lithic drainage samples and the interpretation of multi-element drill-core, rock, stream sediments and soil samples. His work has resulted in the enhanced identification of mineral environments and deposits, critical mineralizing structures, alteration envelopes and lithological boundaries. Sam's interpretations have advanced the exploration of precious and base metals deposits throughout the world.

Sam is the geochemical consultant for Goldcliff on Ainsworth, Panorama Ridge and Tulameen projects that are located in British Columbia, Canada
