GOLDCLIFF and LINCOLN ADVANCE PERMITTING at PINE GROVE, NEVADA

George Sanders, President of Goldcliff Resource Corporation (GCN TSX.V, GCVFF OTCBB Pinks, “the Company”) and Paul Saxton P. Eng., President of Lincoln Mining Corp. (“Lincoln”) are pleased to report that they, as Pine Grove gold joint venture partners, have made significant progress in advancing the permitting of the Pine Grove project, in Lyon County, Nevada. Critical to the overall permitting process is our engagement of Mr. Del Fortner as Director of Permitting and Environmental Compliance. From 2003 to 2006 Mr. Fortner directed the Federal mining program for Nevada as Deputy State Director of the Bureau of Land Management (BLM). Since 2006, Mr. Fortner has been in private practise with an excellent record of advising resource development projects on all aspects of local, state and federal permitting. Mr. Fortner is a graduate of the University of Akron with a BSc. degree in Geology.

Mr. Fortner will assist the joint venture in developing the most cost effective and timely strategies for all exploration and mine development permit issues. He will also provide guidance for all communication with environmental consultants, local, state and federal agencies and local stakeholders.

Mr. Fortner has already met with the Lincoln exploration team to assist in the preparation of drill permits. The joint venture plans an additional reverse circulation drill program to further expand the new upper zone discovered at the Wilson deposit in the fall 2016 drill program.

He will also be meeting with the Lincoln Chief Operating Officer to develop the Plan of Operations permit submission for mine development.

As the joint venture moves Pine Grove towards production we welcome Mr. Fortner’s contribution to the project.

Jeffery Wilson, Vice President of Exploration of Lincoln Mining Corporation, and a Qualified Person under NI 43-101 has reviewed, prepared, and approved the scientific technical disclosure contained in this news release.
